Glossary of Terms

Addendum (showing RFCU as lienholder) - Provided by Carvana or Vroom and contains information pertaining to the lienholder, buyer, vehicle, and sale.

Bill of Sale - This may also be referred to as a Sales Invoice or Buyer's Order. This document typically lists the amount of the sale, taxes, fees, specific vehicle information, trade information (if applicable), etc. For dealership purchases, this document is typically provided by the dealership.

Copy of Title - This document allows RFCU to validate the vehicle VIN and brand, and ensures the seller has the authority to sell the vehicle. The seller may have to obtain a copy of the title from their finance company if the vehicle is currently financed.

Payoff Letter - This is provided by the current finance company or may be available within online banking for that finance company. Finance companies will typically only release this to a current borrower. RFCU does not obtain this document on the borrower's behalf.

Power of Attorney - This document allows RFCU to make any title or registration revisions on the buyer's or seller's behalf to properly register our lien on the vehicle.

Title Application - This document is used to formally show the intention to transfer ownership of a vehicle to a new owner and/or to make a change to the title (such as transferring ownership to the new owner and adding RFCU as lienholder). Only required when purchasing from a dealership.

Vehicle Inspection - Required if applicable, dependent on borrower(s), purchase type, collateral type, loan amount, and other qualifying factors.
